

Jeff Willner

Jeff Willner is Owner and CEO of Travel Edge Group which includes Kensington Tours. Travel Edge is a $600 million luxury travel agency with 13 offices in Canada, US, and Bermuda. Kensington Tours is a $130 million luxury tour company specializing in international private guided travel.

Previously, Mr. Willner was a consultant at McKinsey & Co. He became a Fellow of the Royal Geographic Society and Explorer's Club after driving his Land Rover Defender around the world through 80 countries. Prior to that he co-founded ObjectArts, a leading Microsoft technical training company in North America.

Mr. Willner holds an MBA in Finance and Public Policy from Wharton and was the recipient of the Lauder medal for his public policy work on developing countries.